NOTE FOUND IN BOTTLE GIVES NUNGESSER CLUE

FRENCH ACES LANDED 110 MILES OFF SABLE ISLAND, SAYS REPORT

MOTHER OF NUNGESSER RECOGNIZES WRITING OF SON; SEARCH NEAR SABLE ISLAND TO BE SPEEDED

HALIFAX (N. S.), Sept. 10.—The following message has been received by E. Capoury, French consular agent for Nova Scotia, from the consul general of France at Montreal:

"The department in France has sent me this telegram—'Papers found in bottle off Gironde, France, noting as follows—'May, 1927. We landed twenty miles off Sable Island, Nungesser and Colli.'"

"Nungesser's mother recognizes writing of her son. 'Pray government to look around the island, which is really the one indicated at 180 kilometers (about 110 miles) east of Halifax.'"

What may prove the first trace of the French flyers, Nungesser and Colli, lost in May in a non-stop flight from Paris to America, was announced yesterday in a dispatch from Halifax. The dispatch states that in a bottle found at Gironde, France, was a message purported to be signed by Nungesser and Colli, saying that the plane landed 20 miles off Sable Island. Sable Island is about 110 miles from Halifax, Nova Scotia.

DOLE FLYER CLUE
From Honolulu was also reported that the collar of a kapok jacket, such as are worn by naval aviators, was found on the beach of Waimanalo. It is possible that such a jacket was worn by aviators in the Dole race. Confirmation of the find has not yet been made, no identification of the portion of garment.

WORLD FLYERS PROGRESS
The pride of Detroit plane and its two round the world flyers have reached Shanghai, China, safely, and took off early this morning for Tokio.

According to Washington dispatches, it is probable that the race being made by Ed Schlee and William Brock to break the world record, will be called off at Tokio, as no ship is available there to take them to Honolulu and every one interested has urged the aviators not to attempt to fly across the Pacific from Japan to Honolulu. Both the Midway Island and Guam are declared by the navy to be impossible landing places for the pride of Detroit.

NO NEWS OF OLD GLORY
No further news was received yesterday of the fate of either "Old Glory." New York-to-Rome plane, or the "Sir John Carling," Canada-to-England plane.

Phil Wood and C. A. Schiller, co-pilots of the "Royal Windsor," Canada-to-England plane, agreed yesterday to give up their proposed flight from Harbor Grace across the Atlantic. Backers of the flight instructed the aviators to relinquish their plans.

The British Air Ministry has ordered Captain Courtney, at Coruna, Spain, to give up his proposed flight from that point to New York via the Azores and Newfoundland, owing to the hazards of the flight. Boston and Philadelphia interests, which had offered prizes for flights from Europe to their respective cities, have withdrawn their offers, owing to the recent tragedies of Atlantic flyers.

Reports from France that wreckage of the plane "St. Raphael," which started across the Atlantic with the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, had been found

Local Man Is Crushed To Death

Alex. Giudici Is Knocked To Pavement; Auto Pass Over Him

Alex. Giudici, 73, of 5725 Bay View avenue, Richmond, was crushed beneath the wheels of an automobile as he started across San Pablo avenue at Park lane, El Cerrito, yesterday morning and sustained injuries that resulted in his death soon after being taken to the Abbott Emergency hospital for treatment.

The driver of the machine that crushed Giudici was R. Calamoneri, a tailor of 709 Mission street, San Francisco. Following an investigation by the El Cerrito police, and Deputy District Attorney Hiram E. Jacobs, Calamoneri was released.

Witnesses reported that Giudici was watching a construction of paving on San Pablo avenue between Manila street and the county line as the car approached. The driver declared that he was traveling at a low rate of speed because of the men at work. He stated that the aged man stepped backward from the mixer and started across the avenue. He was knocked to the pavement when he was struck by the rear fender of the car and fell under the rear wheels.

Giudici was taken to the Abbott Emergency hospital in a Wilson and Kratzer ambulance. He died soon after his arrival there.

Deceased, who was born in Sweden had lived in Richmond during the past ten years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sophie Giudici of Richmond; three daughters, Mrs. Irene Canonica, of Richmond; Mrs. Frances Boney and Mrs. Isaac Martignetti; and three sons, Alex, Fred and Chester Giudici, all of Loyalton, Calif. Funeral services and the date for the inquest are in the hands of Coroner Wilson.

Suspended Term Given Moulder For Battery

Justice of the Peace John Roth yesterday sentenced Joseph Jacobs, a moulder residing in North Richmond, to a suspended sentence of six months in the county jail on a charge of battery preferred against the man by his wife.

Jacobs was arrested Friday night by Deputy Sheriff J. W. Smiley following a telephone call to police station by Rosie Jacobs, 12-year-old crippled daughter. She accused her father of abusing her mother, striking her, and threatening four other children of the family.

Jacob promised to "behave himself" and was given a severe reprimand by Judge Roth.

Miss Edna Hall and Miss Eleanor Hurley of West Richmond are leaving today at 4 o'clock on the S. S. Yale for Los Angeles. While in the south they will visit Miss Hurey's aunt and uncle, and with them, they will make a trip by auto to Tijuana, Mex., and other points of interest in the south. They will also go to the Catalina Islands. Miss Hall is employed in the Santa Fe offices in Richmond, and Miss Hurley is a stenographer at Spiro's in San Francisco. A group of their friends will be at the pier to wish them a bon voyage.

Elopement To Reno Staged By Daughter Of Chief Cox

Popular Richmond Girl And Eldon Kendrick Beat 3 Day Law

Miss Gladys Cox, popular Richmond girl and daughter of Chief of Police Dan Cox, surprised her many friends by slipping off quietly to Reno yesterday morning and marrying Eldon Kendrick, former Richmond resident.

Chief Cox had only a slight hint of the plan to evade the three-day marriage license law of this state and received a telegram from Reno shortly after the ceremony was performed. Mrs. Maude Scribner, 1045 Nevin avenue north of the groom, also received a telegram from the newly-weds. Mrs. Kendrick is widely known in Richmond, having graduated from the Richmond Union high school and has been connected with the office force of the Republic Steel Package company during the recent months. She is a talented dancer.

The romance began when Kendrick made his home in this city. He moved to Martinez recently to take over the Buck agency and the romance continued, culminating in the marriage yesterday. They will make their home in Martinez.

Postponement In Watson Trial Is Foreseen

Trial of Major C. P. Watson, president of the Big Pine Water Users' Association in Inyo county, on a grand jury indictment charging him with illegal possession and transportation of explosives, a complaint that followed investigations of the dynamiting of the Los Angeles aqueduct, may not go to trial on September 13 and a continuance to October 4 is likely, it was learned yesterday.

Necessity of additional work on evidence was indicated as the basis for a request that will be presented to Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado tomorrow. Informally the proposal for continuance has already been laid before the court.

Watson is to appear in Oakland police court Monday for resumption of his preliminary examination on an Alameda county charge alleging careless handling of explosives.

Mrs. O. R. Hunt Is Hurt In Accident

Two deep lacerations on the nose and painful abrasions about the face were sustained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. O. R. Hunt, 265 Fourth street, in an automobile collision at Thirty-first street and Barrett avenue.

Mrs. Hunt was riding with her daughter, Mrs. O. L. Kendrick, 650 Thirty-first street, when the machine and a truck driven by Joseph Sedlarik, 124 South Tenth street, collided. She was taken to the Abbott Emergency hospital in a Wilson and Kratzer ambulance after which she was removed to her home.

COUNCILMAN GARRARD TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Sues Billie Burke and Flo

PRETTY MYRTLE SAUER (above), ex-"Follies" girl, has filed suit against Billie Burke and Flo Ziegfeld for $5,000, claiming that her little Chin-Chin (at left) was so severely injured by a giant police dog owned by Billie Burke that the dear little thing died. Miss Sauer was quite broken up about it and gave Chin-Chin a wonderful funeral. Mr. Ziegfeld's attorneys point out that Chin-Chin was permitted to "melt, annoy and provoke the ire of said police dog."

Dog Puts Up Valiant Fight For Master's Rum; Is Slain

MARTINEZ, Sept. 10.—His dog slain after a valiant but unsuccessful attempt to frustrate his master's arrest, Kurt Huskhe, 40, a laborer at the Orinda Country club, today faces payment of a $400 fine or a term of 400 days in the county jail for illegal possession of liquor.

While his dog, a massive German police animal, fought valiantly to restrain Clyde Laird and Britt Nielsen of the county prohibition squad from the kennel and salvaged enough liquor from the soaked sacks for evidence.

Laird and Nielsen were each bitten twice by the vicious dog before they could maneuver into position to shoot it. Then they hastily dragged Huskhe from the kennel and salvaged enough liquor from the soaked sacks for evidence.

When the National Exchange club opens its annual convention in San Francisco tomorrow, Richmond the baby organization of the club will be represented. The local Exchange club which received its authorization only last week, will be represented by H. Solito and Dr. W. W. Hadley, president and secretary respectively of the Richmond organization.

THEFT OF CAR JAILS PAIR ON JOY RIDE HERE

Richmond Officers Take Men Into Custody As Car Goes Off Road

Picked up last night by Patrolman Bengley and Traffic Officer Jaines after they had blown out a front tire by driving off the highway, L. G. Jasmin, of 2455 Howard street, and Pasqual Lopez, of 715 Franklin street, both of San Francisco, are held at the city jail charged with having a stolen car in their possession.

PAIR ARRESTED

Traffic Officer Jaines reported that the two men took a bus into Richmond after the car had stalled off the highway at San Pablo and McBryde avenues. Finding that the names which they had given in conversation with him and that on the registration card did not coincide Jaines followed the bus into the city, called Patrolman Bengley, and took the men into custody.

CAR STOLEN

A check with the San Francisco authorities revealed that the car had been stolen there and was registered under the name of the United States Gypsum Company, 1105 Edward Wilkey Building, Los Angeles.

The men will be taken back to San Francisco this morning to face a charge either of driving a car without the owner's consent or of grand larceny.

TAX REDUCTION

It is well for the people at large that a hearty debate is now going on relative to the possibilities and the amount of a possible tax reduction. The more the matter is talked of the better it will be for all. Most of the nuisance taxes have already been repealed and only 4 percent of our entire population ($4,171,000) are now paying income taxes. By reason of past legislation, 3,200,000 citizens who were obliged to pay income taxes in 1925 were relieved.

One thing in this business of tax reduction it is well for us to remember; that notwithstanding the extraordinary progress which the republicans have made in reducing the national debt it still totals some eighteen billions of dollars, and the interest on this debt for the coming year runs to three-quarters of a billion dollars.

AMERICAN POTTERY MARKET

European pottery makers with low-priced labor are slowly taking possession of our American pottery market. During the last year, they sold $45,000,000 worth of pottery as against the $42,000,000 worth produced in the United States.

It is to be remembered that most of the folks who demonstrated for Sacco-Vanzetti didn't demonstrate because they thought the men were innocent, but because the prisoners were reds.

As soon as we get this year's pennant races and world series settled we will have to begin worrying about where the next republican national convention is to be held.

After all, we suspect the president will enjoy his membership in the Sioux tribe, as being the only organization he ever belonged to whose members didn't talk too much.

The corn crop may fail but so long as they can make wood alcohol out of sawdust the bootleggers will still have plenty of pure corn liquor.

The only fellow who can best the stock salesman at handing out gold promises for the future is the candidate in the midst of a red hot primary battle.

Considering the time required to get a start these modern aviators manage to make an ocean crossing at about the same speed as did the Santa Maria.

It is a sad affair, indeed, when a college student fails to make the team and returns home with nothing to show for his money except an education.

How To Earn Money!

I am a good pianist and can accompany any one. Where can I get such work?

MUSICIAN.

Go personally to every music studio, dancing cabaret and tea room and ask for such work.

I am a wonderful cook and I can manage a tearoom or small restaurant. How can I get some woman with funds to back such an undertaking? MRS. J. T.

A short ad in our paper or any daily paper will surely bring many letters from people who are anxious to start in business with a good partner.

Although I have no knowledge whatever of interior decoration or art in any form, I have made several attractive screens for my home. They have been admired by all who have seen them, and as a result I have several orders for screens. I am thinking now that I might be able to work up a little business in decorative screens. Would you please give me an idea of what I should ask for them; also where may I find new ideas for screens, as I do not wish to make them all alike. The ones I have on hand now were covered with wall paper.

As to your prices—figure up just what you have spent for materials and double this amount. Unless the screen is elaborate this should be a fair price. Heavy wall paper shellacked, makes attractive screens, using plain paper with cut-out borders of figured paper trimmed with plain. Pretty nifty screens are made of plain white or colored oil cloth with applied or stenciled designs. Chintz-covered screens are lovely for the bedroom. Any number of delightful effects may be secured by the use of different papers or chintzes. Novel ideas for decorative screens appear from time to time in the various women's magazines.

I want to start in a mail order business, but would like to have a partner. How can I go about getting a reliable person? I can devote quite a bit of time and I have a little money to invest also.

Just a short ad, consisting of a few lines, will bring you the right partner. Judging from the neatness of your letter, you should not have much trouble in starting any kind of business. I wish you success.

I have made some rugs as you advised me to. Will you please tell me where I can dispose of them? GEORGINA.

We have had many asking this question. The women's exchange handles them. Most art shops are glad to get them.

Please tell me where I can learn candy making? I want to go in the business, as there is a large college near my home and I know I can make good.

All cooking schools teach candy making. You might get a book from the library on candy making and experiment at home. When you have learned all the book will teach you, you can take a postgraduate course at some cooking school.

Mrs. Sarah Spence will answer all questions on "How to Earn Money at Home." Address her care of this paper.

A NATURAL REQUEST
Jimmie had been told that his father went to town every day to make bread for the family. One day he was allowed to go to his father's office for him.

"Now Poppie," he said, as soon as they arrived, "bring out the dough."

YOUR MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

By Patricia Lee

Here is another jealous wife, and jealous without cause. Such women as Rita E.—make one doubt the wisdom of a man's furnishing a wife a working diagram of his past life. My advice to Rita is to put this affair back into the past where it belongs and forget it.

SAYS THE WOMAN

Dear Patricia Lee:—I have been married only 4 months and I love my husband dearly. Before we were married he was engaged to another girl for about 3 years. He told me all about the affair and I thought I had forgotten all about it until the other day some one mentioned her name. It cut me like a knife and before I realized it I had said some very cruel things to my husband. I even threatened to leave him. He begged me not to. Of course I was sorry for what happened and asked his forgiveness, but I cannot get over this feeling of jealousy, and I am sure I shall never be happy again.

What can I do? RITA E.—Why deliberately torture yourself? Are you going to let a ghost from the past spoil your life? Doesn't the fact that your husband married you instead of the other girl prove anything? He was honest with you. He has probably completely forgotten this other woman. Then why remind him of her? Try to think of the whole affair calmly, and as so far in the past that it cannot touch you. Evidently he loves you now or he wouldn't have begged you to stay. You forgave your husband when he confessed. Now can't you be a good sport and forget?

When a woman or a man either for that matter comes to the conclusion that she is terribly misunderstood and seeks outside sympathy she usually finds it. But what an unfortunate state of affairs!

By LADY BEATRICE GREY

It just occurred to me to tell my readers something that left a very good impression on me. Have you ever noticed a real plain person? And, suddenly looking at their hands, you renew your summary of them again? Well, I just met a type like that, and can truly say that I liked that person from that time on.

We can't pick our faces, but we can our hands. It is an old saying in the vernacular. Well, that applies to our hands. They can be kept clean and beautiful. No matter what the shape or style may be they can always be attractive.

The first thing to be considered is the shape of the hand itself. The nail is more advisable, because of the type. It is considered poor taste to have the nails either very long or decidedly pointed. A dull polish is preferable to a very high one, because it only tends to make the wearer appear vulgar.

For the office worker the short nail is more advisable, because of the tendency of the nail to break. It is very unlovely to see nicely kept nails with one or two points broken.

For the benefit of those who have never done their own nails, I employ professional attention once every two weeks. If you have never trimmed your cuticle DON'T BEGIN.

Dip the hands in warm water and pure soap. When the dirt sticks try a little lemon juice on top and underneath the nails.

Questions concerning beauty building through physical culture will receive the personal attention of Lady Grey, beauty culturist, and should be signed by the writer's full name and address, which will not be used without permission. Address her, care of this newspaper.

fair is thus brought about.

Says the MAN

Dear Patricia Lee:

For six years I have been married to a woman whom I thought to be the soul of honor and loyalty. She has been ill a great deal, has had several operations and is very nervous. We have had quite a few financial reverses, too, and because of this and the heavy expenses attendant to her illness I have not been able to do as much for her as I would like. Now I find that she has been carrying her troubles to another man and accepting his sympathy. Naturally I realize that she is losing her love for me. I am heart broken, for I love her better than I love myself. What would you advise?

G. T.—Apparently the whole trouble is due to your wife's physical condition. After so much suffering, and being in a constant state of "nerves" it is very natural that she should fall a victim to "self-pity," which is, after all, an affliction in itself. Evidently she feels very sorry for herself and wants comfort—perhaps more of it than you feel she needs. Doubtless you feel that you should have some consolation yourself—and I agree with you. On the other hand, if you are in normal health and do not have that abnormal craving for sympathy which is an accompaniment on bodily illness and nervousness. The only thing I can suggest is that you lavish which you can. Make her see that upon your wife all the affection you understand her troubles and that you are doing all in your power to make her happy. You will only make bad matters worse if you censure her for going to this other man for sympathy. This would only drive her back to him.

CUTEST THING BABY EVER SAID

A man passed by where we were staying in June, and he had a hand organ and a monkey, and he played the organ. When we came back from the country I promised the baby I would take him to church if he was a good boy.

"You will hear the organ play," I said, and he replied: "Can I hold the monkey?"

A BIG DIFFERENCE

I love to read of Indian fights—fights big and rough and bloody. When they are told in story books. Not in the books I study.

An awkward man attempted to carve a turkey, and in so doing pushed it from the platter to the floor.

"There now, we've lost our dinner," wailed his wife.

"Oh, no, we haven't. I've got my foot on it!"

Uncle Bob: "I haven't seen you eating any candy lately, Russell. What's the matter?"

Russell: "I'm saving up. Papa says when I get twenty cents he'll put the rest of the money to it and buy me a bicycle."

"What Every Girl Should Know" Shows At Richmond

In Warner Bros' "What Every Girl Should Know," starring Patsy Ruth Miller, Mickey McBan is cast as Bobby Sullivan, younger brother of the heroine of the piece. Mickey is the boy who sprang to fame with his first picture when he played the youngster in "Poor Men's Wives" with Barbara La Marr. In "Beau Geste" he gave a memorable performance as the Geste lad who got shot in the leg. He was the unforgettable little boy in "The Return of Peter Grimm." For his remarkable work as Michael Darling in "Peter Pan," Herbert Brenon, the director, presented him with a Shetland pony, which is Mickey's special pet, and is also named Peter Pan.

In his zoo are a Pekinese named Chinky, Tabby, a cat, two love birds and six goldfish, all the gifts of fans. Mickey takes great pride in his twenty-five homing pigeons from the balloon school at Arcadia.

He is a great lover of stories, especially of pirate stories, which he hopes some day to wire and have made into pictures. "What Every Girl Should Know," a Warner production, was directed by Charles F. Reisner and comes to the Richmond Theatre today. It is a story of luck, pluck and the Irish luck of three fighting orphans.

Other film features include "Newlyweds Quarantined," a roaring comedy with Lovey Dovey and Snookums; and other screen novelties.

STELLAR ACTS AT CALIFORNIA

Five acts of stellar vaudeville and "Fast and Furious" starring Reginald Denny, a fast moving feature picture with some interesting short reels make up the big double bill at the California theatre today.

Jewel Floyd, the musical comedy comedienne and a trio of young, sparkling misses, backed by some clever fooling by a young fellow offers a revue of bright and breezy song and dance bits interspersed with comedy interruptions. Miss Floyd the possessor of talent and a personality that puts her in right with her auditors from the start is the highlight of the presentation.

George Green, a colored boy, starts proceedings with some unusual comedy bits on rollers. George features eccentric falls and steps and gets away with some clever acrobatics as well. Gibson and Betty, a snappy couple indulge in merry perisflage and a song or two in keeping with the story of their skit, which tells of the courting of a girl cigar stand attendant by a merry young rouser from the big city.

Berry and Betty in "A Studio Incident" combine blackface comedies with some musical presentation. The male member of the duo holding the comedy role and the girl friend obliging with some

SPEED MANIAC CREATES HAVOC AT CALIFORNIA

"Fast and Furious," Universal's picturization of Reginald Denny's original story has been booked for its first local showing by the California Theatre for today.

Embracing an all-star cast and directed by Mel Brown, one of Universal's younger directors, the picture will add another large legion of Denny's film fans. Claude Gilliswater, who has played character roles on the dramatic boards for years and who has worked in pictures for the last decade or more, is cast in one of the leading parts in this typical Denny starring vehicle.

Barbara, Worth, whom motion picture critics have acclaimed as the screen find of the year and who has been forging ahead by leaps and bounds since her advent in Hollywood via the extra girl route, plays the leading feminine role opposite Denny, while other members of the cast are Armand Kaliz, Lee Moran, Chas. K. French, Wilson Bengie and Edgar Norton. "Fast and Furious" is the story of a speedmaniac who finally meets his Waterloo when he finds "himself" flat on his back amidst the wreckage of his space-annihilator, gazing up into the baby blue eyes of the only girl in the world, thereby not only losing the race but also his heart.

There isn't a dull moment in the picture, it starts with a whiz and ends with a bang. Other features on the same program include "Hold That Bear," a Cameo comedy; Fox News; Weigle's Californians; Larry Canelo, at the organ; and five big acts of West Coast Theatres vaudeville.

talented selections on varied instruments. Jimmy Rose in "Topics of the Day" rounds out a pleasing five act bill.

There's a beaver now clearing a path to get a new supply of wood down to the water with greater ease.

Here's one swimming with his forefeet pressing a stick close to his chin. He is using his hind feet as paddles, his tail as a rudder and also sometimes to propel him forward.

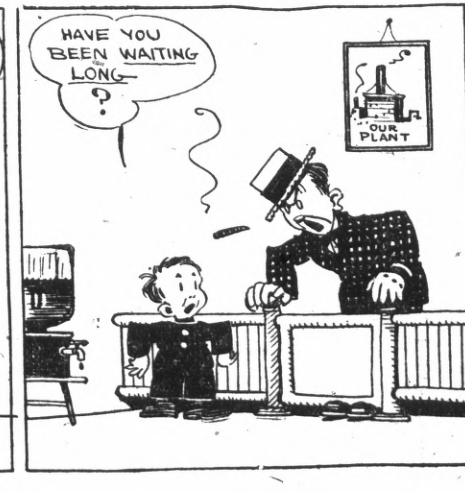

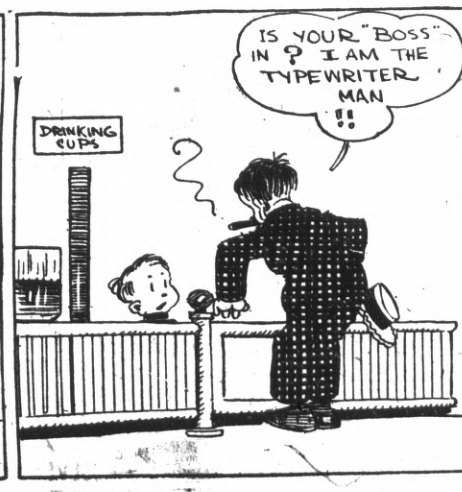

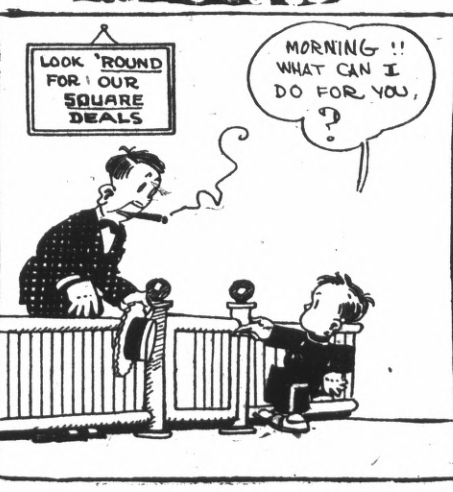

The Beavers are building their winter home near the edge of the pond made by their dam built across the stream.

Having cut down trees and trimmed off their branches, then cut them into proper lengths they build a broad conical-shaped wood pile which rises out of the water—a mass of interlaced branches and mud.

Children Love Puzzles, So Do Men And Women

By CORINNE RICH
(Universal Service Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Finds in every walk of life may come and go with the seasons and the years. But man is ever and always and forever interested in puzzles.

Give him a few minutes to spare going downtown on the subway or the trolley in the morning. After he has read the headlines, he turns his newspaper inside out, pulls out his stubby pencil, and sets to work on the daily puzzle.

It may be a cross-word puzzle or a laddergram. It may even be a racing-form or a time-table or a woman's mental workings. Just so it's a brain-twister of some sort or other. Consciously or unconsciously, man simply loves 'em.

Maybe a neatly solved puzzle is a sop to vanity—and this goes for women, too. Or perhaps it's little word checker-board affords an interesting and always new means of expressing the old ego.

CHILDHOOD PUZZLES

Man starts liking puzzles away back in his childhood. What more delights the childish heart than something "to work." It is not arithmetic out of a school book!

Witness the history of the Riddle Box department of St. Nicholas Magazine, the country's oldest and best known publication for children.

Through the half-century or more of that magazine's honorable history, the Riddle Box has never failed to make its appearance and every puzzle in it is contributed by children ranging approximately from nine to fifteen years of age.

The astonishing thing is that during all those years the riddles themselves have changed their character scarcely at all.

The first issue of the publication had such puzzles, charades, hidden square words, square reminders, double acrobatics and anagrams. Who of us remembers them?

And today, St. Nicholas publishes a page and a half of contributions called "an omitted word," "numerical enigmas," "endless chains," "word squares," "letter additions," "cross-word enigmas," "bird charades," and "transpositions."

CHILDREN THE SAME TODAY

Not much difference in the way the child-mind worked fifty years ago and today, is there?

Then there are "beheading and curtallings," lots of fun they are, "poetical pl." which requires mental dexterity, "broken words," "comp. squares," "endless chains," "oblique puzzles," and many others of that ilk.

"Many of our children write in and complain that they never get to see the magazine when it first comes to their house every month because father grabs it first to solve the puzzles," George T. Thomas, managing editor, told me.

And so it is with the human mind and its relaxations.

The editor of the Riddle Box is Miss Mary Virginia Worstell, a maiden lady who has been at the job for many years. She has to work every puzzle out before she lets it go into print, or some little child would "call" her.

One wonders what a cross-section of Miss Worstell's brain must look like.

Alleged Mother Slayer May Go On Trial In Chicago

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Harry Hill, 22, accused of slaying his mother, may be tried in Chicago instead of in Streator, Ill., where too much prejudice against the youth exists, according to W. W. O'Brien, noted criminal lawyer here today.

He announced that he would apply for a writ of habeas corpus to have Hill, speeding homeward in the custody of three officials from Seattle, Wash., cited before Chicago Jurist.

The injection of O'Brien, known for his brilliant defense of prominent gangsters, into the trial on the side of the defense came as a surprise. It was learned that he had been retained by friends of "the Hill family."

The move for a writ, he admitted, is part of a plan to keep young Hill here—a preliminary step toward seeking a change of venue, when Hill is brought to trial from the La Salle county court to the Cook county court.

"That town of Streator is against the boy," said O'Brien. "The people there have convicted him in their own minds without waiting for a trial by jury."

The attorney added that young Hill's father, Dr. H. C. Hill, knew nothing of the plan to align him with the defense attorneys.

Meanwhile State's Attorney Russell O. Hanson of La Salle county gave no indication of alarm over the threads of habeas corpus proceedings.

WINTER CASTS DARK SHADOWS ON OCEAN HOPS

By HENRY CAVENDISH

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The lengthening shadows and purple mists of autumn and the cloudy skies of approaching winter have cast their spell over the upper regions and the 1927 season for trans-Atlantic flying has come to an end. For there will be no more attempts to fly over the Atlantic ocean this year.

Two flights—the Royal Windsor flight from Canada and the Junkers flight from Germany—have been definitely cancelled, the principals of two other flights are wavering and the eyes of the world of aviation are already turned to counting the losses of the past season and to the prospects for the next. A season of good weather in 1928 may bring greater achievements.

While 1927 has been a year of the greatest advancement in long distance flying, it has also been distinctly a year of the most tragic disasters in history of modern air navigation. And its finish is written with the failure of three trans-Atlantic flights within two weeks—the St. Raphael, Old Glory and the Sir John Carling.

With these disasters the names of eight passengers and pilots were added to the scroll of martyrs to aviation, including Capt. Leslie Hamilton, Lieut. F. F. Minchin, Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, Lloyd Bertaud, James D. Hill, Philip A. Payne, Terry Tully and James McCall.

As a result, the disasters of the last fortnight there is growing a strong public opinion against risking further attempts at ocean flying this year. Following out this public view the Junkers Company in Germany announced several days ago that the renewal of the attempt for the Bremen to cross the Atlantic this year had been cancelled, and that the remainder of the fall and winter would be devoted to experiments.

The announcement was made only yesterday that the backers of the Royal Windsor flight from Windsor, Canada, to Windsor, England, had given up the plan and had wired the fliers to return to Windsor, Ontario.

Becoming HART NAPS although they aren't altogether new, are altogether different. They look like other kinds of Sanitary Napkins, but they're unlike any other kinds.
They're far more absorbent, much softer for their reason, more comfortable because they're softer, and more easily disposed of than bulkier napkins that are less absorbent.
The fact that they cost no more than napkins that haven't these advantages, is simply another noteworthy feature.
We therefore suggest that you try them.

FISH AND GAME DEPT. TELLS OF NEW PROGRAMS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Zellerbach, President of the California Fish and Game Commission, has released a formal statement of the program of the Commission's activities for the coming year. Zellerbach's statement follows:

Owing to the increased license fees for hunting and angling which become partially effective this year and the extra revenue from the deer tag license which go into effect this fall, the Fish and Game Commission has been allowed additional money for the present fiscal year which will permit it to initiate the four-year program which is presented to the Legislature at its last session. The main points of the program for this year are as follows:

In the patrol department there will be 30 new full-time deputies. A crew will immediately commence to survey and post all game refuges. The patrol department is already handling fish planting for the first time in the history of the state, and by next year will have built a complete system under which the Commission will pay all the cost of the planting, including hiring of trucks, pack trains and labor. Arrangements are being perfected for fish rescue work and by next season it will be fully organized and the Commission will be able to save fish stranded in dry streams and lakes. There will be a new speed boat for the upper bay region, and several knock-down boats with out-board motors to be carried by deputies on their automobiles for use on mountain lakes and streams.

In the fish culture department four new hatcheries will be constructed this fall at the following locations:

Near Bridgeport in Mono county; on the Kaweah River; on Gold River in Mendocino county; and on the Kern River. Experimental egg-taking stations will be established on Smith River in Del Norte county, and Prairie Creek in Humboldt county. Two new biologists will be added to the staff and a definite survey plan inaugurated of all streams and lakes in the state. Ponds will be built at the hatcheries to age fish to larger size.

The Educational and Research Bureaus of the Commission have been separated.

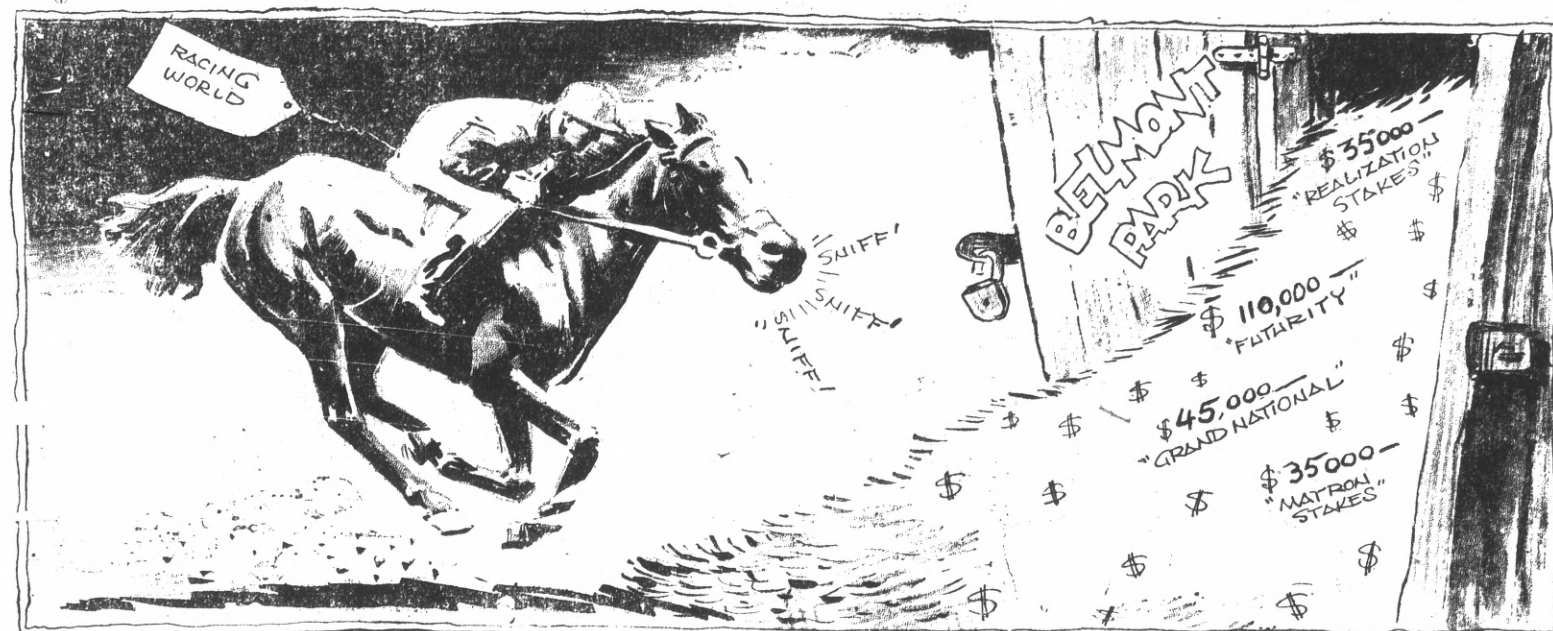

In the Bureau of Education two new full-time lecturers will be added and provision made for lecturers in the lower grades in the schools. A serious effort will be made to build up a complete outfit of motion pictures featuring the activities of the Commission and the wild life of the state. A reference library on conservation subjects is being collected to be available to the employees of the Commission, and to the public at large.

The Research Bureau of the Commission is being greatly augmented. A zoologist and pathologist are now being added to the staff; laboratory equipment is being installed and we will be able to cope thoroughly with all problems of bird and animal disease.

A new game farm will be built immediately in southern California so that next year the output on pheasants alone should be 20,000.

A co-operative program for investigation of pollution throughout the state will be inaugurated in conjunction with the State Board of Health. A joint laboratory will be maintained by both departments with a view of obtaining a thorough knowledge of the kinds of pollution of our streams, lakes and bays and the best method of controlling it.

Added help in the Hydraulic Department will enable the Commission to complete its survey and force the installation of fish screens and fish ladders where necessary.

Sannies Meet Martinez And San Mateo In Double Header

Phil Jones' slugging Sannies are due for a double header today.

At 9 o'clock this morning they will meet Martinez of the Three C League at the First street park.

This is the last league game of the season for the Sannies and will decide whether the Sannies will have to play Antioch for the championship. If A touch wins from the Kunkhardt Candies and the Sannies beat Martinez, the two teams will be tied for the championship.

This afternoon the Sannies play San Mateo in San Mateo. This team is regarded as one of the best bush-leaguers in the state, having won twenty-three straight games. While it is a strong team the Sannies are confident that they will break the lucky streak by beating them.

The lineup is as follows: Daley, 2b; Greathouse, 1b; Biggs, rf; Lane, ss; Huzefka lf; O'Rourke cf; Barbieri 3b; Moss, c; Roberts p; Kamb p and Hansen, c.

Swimming Meet Here Draws Many Entries

The first annual swimming meet of the Northern California Amateur Athletic Federation will be held here at the city pool on the night of September 24. Great interest in the event is being manifested throughout the Eastbay and more than 10 entries have already been received. It is believed that when entries close more than double that amount will have been received.

There will be events for men and women and for juniors. Gold, silver and bronze trophies will be awarded first, second and third place takers in the event.

GENE TUNNEY'S TRAINING CAMP, LAKE VILLA, Ill., Sept. 10.—Gene Tunney, again abstaining from boxing, admitted this afternoon he had heard certain rumors about his coming fight with Dempsey. In his characteristic frank way of meeting delicate questions, Gene said:

"It is only natural some rumors charging that the coming fight is in danger of being tampered with should reach my ears, of course the whole thing is preposterous to any thinking man."

"I think I know Jack Dempsey pretty well and if I do know him at all, I am sure that he will not deliver any foul blows, he is not that sort of person. And as for myself, you may depend on it I shall violate none of the rules governing the contest."

"Both of us will be in there to win on fair grounds. It is often the case that rumors attend bouts of this scope. But it is preposterous to think that anyone would seek to lose a bout when it means so much to win it. Furthermore, knowing that we, the principals in the contest are striving might and main to perfect ourselves for the battle. It is equally preposterous to suggest or even hint that anyone connected with the contest could or would do anything that departed from fair and square methods when such departure would mean the immediate death of boxing from one end of the world to the other."

"I believe I shall win decisively."

When asked if he intended to take chances in exchanging wallops with Dempsey, Tunney smiled and said:

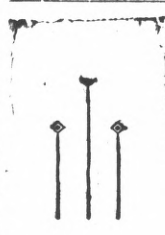

"It depends on how sportive I feel that night. When we exchanged heavy blows at Philadelphia, I didn't show any signs of quitting, did I?"

Tunney explained that his eye was not cut deeply in his tilt with his sparring partner, Chuck Wiggins, last Tuesday. It seems to be more of a scratch than a cut. He added:

"It merely gives me an opportunity to take a needed rest. I was in superb condition as early as ten days ago. I have come from a cool climate to a warm one, and I cannot and should not overwork myself when I do not need the work."

WILLIAM BUSCH (above), 21-year-old Boston marathoner, who has achieved popularity by his many long-distance performances, among which was a non-stop run from New York to Boston, is reported to be doing fine in his Los Angeles-New York run. If he completes the journey in his planned time he will have broken the 77 days 8 hour record made by Edward Payson Weston in 1890 by more than three weeks.

Ukrainians Picnic At Alvarado Park

A Ukrainian organization of San Francisco, will give a dance and picnic at Alvarado park today. The affair is for the benefit of the Ukrainian home.

Twenty to nothing was the score of the football game yesterday afternoon when Richmond met the St. Helena high school eleven on their home grounds. In spite of the hot weather, to which the local team has not been accustomed, they succeeded in outplaying their rivals, keeping the ball in their field most of the game.

Scarsella made the first touchdown in the first quarter of the game. He carried the ball through center making the first score.

Again in the third quarter, Scarsella made a touchdown by intercepting a forward pass and following a good interference.

In the last half of the game, Williams sneaked through center for a touchdown.

As this was not one of the regular games of the season Coach Ivan Hill ran in a number of substitute players to give them a taste of the game and to let them show their stuff. Regular players of the game were:

Jackson and Trull, centers; Captain Diamantini and Minor, Rountree and Neckel, guards; Schaefer, Dunleavy and Fisher, tackles; Fitzpatrick, J. Baldwin, Johnson and Barreres, ends; Williams and Bungarner, quarter; Scarsella and Sakal, Swenson and Hall, halves and Baldwin, full.

HEART TROUBLE
Marvelously Relieved

While visiting her daughter here in Oakland, Mrs. W. H. Morton of Stockton was in such great pain due to Heart Trouble that it affected her left hand. She could neither walk nor rest with the slightest comfort. All the physicians whom she consulted expressed the opinion that she had not more than ten days to live. She truly seemed to be at the point of death when she took her first package of the Fong Wan Herbs. It was cooked for her at home, and that night she had the first rest after many weeks of terrible suffering. After four weeks of the Fong Wan Herb Treatment, she was able to return to her home in Stockton. From that city she has sent the following testimonial to the Fong Wan Herb Co.:

OWES HER LIFE TO FONG WAN HERBS
Stockton, Cal., March 21, 1927.
To the Fong Wan Herb Co.: I have been a sufferer with valvular trouble of the heart for some time. I became so ill that my doctors, who were many, gave me but a week or ten days to live.

I decided to try the Fong Wan Herbs, and to the amazement of all who attended me, I was able to walk into their office after taking the Herbs one week. I have now taken them four weeks and I not only have a good heart, but have also been helped in other ailments.

I cannot speak too highly of the Fong Wan Herbs, as I owe my life to them. I am very grateful to Fong Wan for their kindness.

JULIAN WITNESS TAKEN TO L. A. TO FACE PROBE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Jack Berman, alias Jack Bennett, "bright young man" of the notorious Julian Petroleum manipulation, during which a sum estimated at $67,000,000 disappeared and a stock overissue of nearly 6,000,000 shares developed, was on his way to Los Angeles tonight to "face the music" and an indictment charging him with forgery and embezzlement. He has surrendered to Los Angeles authorities in San Francisco Thursday night.

Berman, in custody of Ben J. Cohen, head of the Los Angeles county district attorney's special investigators, and Chester Horn and Harry Croman, after spending two nights at the Hotel St. Francis, left this morning at 10:30 o'clock, traveling in a motor car driven by his brother, Louis Berman, who is also under indictment but out on bail.

Two other cars were in the caravan. One was driven by Harold L. Davis, assistant district attorney of Los Angeles, and carried Mrs. Davis, James F. Donnelly of New York and John Murphy of Los Angeles, the latter two Berman's attorneys. The third car, driven by Harry Croman, held the baggage of the party.

Berman is due to appear in court in Los Angeles Monday morning to answer the indictment which also names S. C. Lewis, indicted head of the Julian Oil company.

The party on leaving San Francisco motored directly to Del Monte, where a conference was held late today with District Attorney Asa Keyes of Los Angeles. They will remain at Del Monte until tomorrow morning and then depart for the south, to arrive in Los Angeles some time either tomorrow night or early Monday morning.

"We shall not advertise the time or day of our arrival" said Davis. He explained that this was not so much to avoid publicity as to prevent any hostile demonstration against the prisoner.

"Berman will be kept under a heavy guard, not that we fear his slipping away, but to protect him from people who were victims of the Julian pool. Threats have been made and we had to assure Berman that he would be well protected against his enemies," said Davis.

LEGIONAIRES GIVEN ROUSING N. Y. SENDOFF

ABOARD THE LEVIATHAN, Sept. 10.—Airplanes dropping good will bombs, the dirigible Los Angeles and Blimps overhead, and a flotilla of destroyers escorting us for a hundred miles out to sea, gave the American Legion a rousing send off and a strange thrill for the 1,600 legionnaires of the second A. E. F. who are aboard.

The Leviathan swung onto the broad Atlantic this evening leaving its escort of the air and sea to return.

The Los Angeles turned back and sailed away for Lakewood after circling the ship for the first twenty miles out.

A great cheer went up, almost drowning the A. E. F. music of the wonderful Greenville, Mississippi band, when just as the Leviathan rounded Battery point and was pushing out past Coney Island, a rushing tug caught up with her.

The tug brought a Legionnaire who had missed the ship in the North River.

Gen. John J. Pershing in civilian clothes is walking the deck and conversing humbly with buck privates. Commander Savage expressed great relief at the successful completion of the task of transporting 18,000 Legionnaires and their folks across to the big Paris convention.

There are more than 200 Chicagoans aboard this ship.

Everybody has the freedom of the ship regardless of class or state rooms. The sea is smooth, the weather is fine, so everybody ate three meals today.

New Irak Land Registers Made From Records

(By Universal Service) BAGHDAD, Sept. 10.—Photographic copies of registers held in Constantinople recording land transactions in Iraq, a part of the dismembered Turkish Empire, have been received here after five months work by the Baghdad headquarters survey inspector who supervised the running off and the listing of about 250,000 entries at the old Turkish capital.

Irak land registers were lost or destroyed during the withdrawal of the Turkish forces in 1917, the originals remaining at Constantinople. Under the Treaty of Lausanne Iraq was obliged to negotiate with Turkey for the handing over of all documents and records. The Kemal government at Ankara agreed in principle, but declined to surrender the originals. The question was solved by inporting a special machine from London completing 250 sheets a day.

The land registers at Iraq are by no means complete as a result of this work. Certain records are permanently lost owing to the failure of the pre-war Turkish officials in Baghdad to send their returns regularly to Constantinople.

Eight hundred maps of the crown estates in Iraq belonging to the former Sultan Abdul Hamid were also photographed.

The government of Palestine made use of the photographic facilities provided by the Iraq delegation. 125,000 acres of land transactions in Palestine and Transjordan were also photographed.

Fonck Determined To Try New York To Paris Flight

(By Universal Service) NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Captain Rene Fonck is still determined to attempt his New York to Paris airplane flight in spite of the fact that the U. S. Navy has refused to let Lieut. Lawrence Curtin and Ensign Steve Edwards go with him.

Fonck announced today that he will go ahead with his tests and other preparations for the flight. The only thing that can stop him, he believes, is an order from the French government.

The search for Old Glory and the Sir John Carlton, two big monoplanes which were lost early in the week, continued today. The steamship Kyle has gone into the North Atlantic with the specific mission of searching over Old Glory's course.

All trans-Atlantic liners are still keeping a lookout for traces of the two planes, but they are no longer deviating from their lanes.

will reflect the attitude of the French government. If France, like other countries begins to frown on trans-oceanic flights, his army chiefs may order him not to attempt the jump.

Fonck has not yet secured other pilots to succeed the American navy men who have been called back to their posts.

"I will go ahead with my tests, with no definite plans," Fonck said. "We are waiting to see what the reaction may be in France."

French Aces Land On Sable Island

HALIFAX, Sept. 10.—Eduard Gabor, French 'council here, tonight announced following the arrival of the steamer Ville D'Ile D'ys here today Commander Bordeaux declared that he had been in the vicinity of Sable Island and had heard of no reports regarding the French flyers Nungesser and Coll.

"The current in the neighborhood of Sable Island is such," the commander was quoted as saying, "that it is impossible that a bottle could have drifted from the vicinity to the coast of France. On the contrary such a bottle if cast upon the waters would have drifted either due east or south-west."

Automobile News

NEW AUTO FIRM COMES TO RICHMOND

Hourtane And M'Quone Motor Company Takes Strom Agency

One of the most important local automobile developments is announced with the coming to Richmond of the well-known and eminently successful automotive merchants—the Hourtane & McQuone Motors Co. of Berkeley.

Hourtane & McQuone have for years been one of the leading automobile dealers of Berkeley, and purchased the business of the J. P. Strom company, the former local dealer for Willys-Knight and Whippet cars, because they recognized that the city of Richmond is on the eve of the greatest development of any point on the east bay.

"We have been closely watching Richmond," said Mr. McQuone "and tried several times during the past six months to purchase J. P. Strom's business. Recently however, because of his Fresno interests, he finally sold out to us, and although the price was high, nevertheless we feel that the investment is well made because we are extending our activities into a community that is destined to outdistance any other east bay point in rapid development."

"Personally I am considering moving my family to Richmond and living here, which will permit us to be more closely associated with the problems of local sales and service, and we want Richmond Willys-Knight and Whippet owners to know that we will render to them the same brand of personally interested and efficient service that has done so much to build our Berkeley business to success.

"We believe in Richmond and we are backing it with out investments."

Much activity has been evidenced around the corner of Macdonald and Thirteenth streets since the new organization has taken possession, and the most modern of machinery and equipment is being installed, as well as establishing a large sales force to handle the increased business that is expected under the new management.

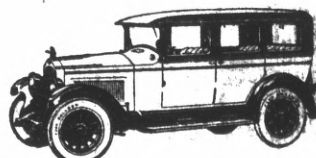

Both Hourtane and McQuone plan on spending much of their time here and it is indeed a tribute to Richmond to have these successful Berkeley merchants choose this locality as a most fertile one for development.

It is planned to establish sub-service stations at various other points, so that the well-known "Hourtane & McQuone Service" will be available to Willys-Knight and Whippet owners in adjacent towns as well as at their large establishments in Berkeley and Richmond.

WHIPPET SHOWS POWER, SPEED IN NEW RECORD

Performance demonstrations has always been accepted by the public as proof of the ability of an automobile to do certain things—especially in showing its power economy, roadability and speed. Naturally those demonstrations which have been officially checked by responsible organizations of their representatives carry the most weight in the public estimation.

Probably no greater demonstration of reliability and economy was ever given than the transcontinental trip made last year by a Whippet, in which some really remarkable showing was made, according to Hourtane & McQuone Motor Co., local dealers in Whippet and Willys-Knight cars. This run was made under the rules and sanction of the contest board of the American Automobile Association, and Joe Nikrent, former racing driver and expert mechanical engineer, rode with the driver throughout the trip and supervised the examination of the car at start and finish as technical representative and observer for the national governing body.

More recently a Whippet made the run from Indio, below sea level in the Coachella Valley of south-eastern California, up the slopes of Mt. Baldy, a distance of 119 miles over steep mountain grades and around hundreds of sharp turns, in the remarkable time of 2 hours 17 minutes, an average of 52.2 miles an hour. This run was supervised and timed by representatives of the Los Angeles newspapers.

Another recent test run was that made from Casper to Cheyenne, Wyo., thence to Laramie and Rawlins and back to Casper and then to Edgerton, the distance, including a double circuit of the Casper-Cheyenne route, totaling 1077 miles, in 23 hours and 3 minutes with an average of 44.9 miles an hour. Hardly any of this country has paved roads and much of the going is exceedingly difficult.

Still another test run of considerable interest was that made by a Whippet from Los Angeles to San Francisco, by the Coast route, with the transmission locked in second gear. The car averaged more than 27 miles an hour, elapsed time, for the trip, which was checked and timed by the Western Union, while a newspaper man rode with the driver as official observer.

The number of accidents, however, that take place at grade crossings points out the necessity of some action being taken in this matter.

The Government reports show that in the United States at the present time there are 232,755 grade crossings. Of this number only 27,161 have any signal devices of warning for highway users.

Two hundred five thousand five hundred ninety-four grade crossings, therefore, are unprotected and are a constant menace to the life and limb of the passing motorist.

In 1925 one driver out of every nine thousand in the United States lost his life in a grade crossing accident. The elimination of grade crossings will require a considerable time. The cost would be stupendous and there are many difficulties in the way. Protection, however, at all grade crossings is a necessity.

Warning signals, gates or signs are necessary if we are to equal the records of England and France; the former with a ratio of one death to 65,000 and the latter with a ratio of one to 45,000.

Plan Survey Of Grade Crossings

A bill was introduced at the recent session of the California Legislature to provide for a survey of the grade crossings in the state. As this survey may be made by federal engineers without expense to the State Government, the bill died in committee.

COLOR SCHEME OF CHEVROLET IN HIGH FAVOR

Further support of the old adage that "nothing succeeds like success" was afforded in the announcement last week of a reduction in price on the Imperial landau model which was added to the Chevrolet line last spring. From the day of its introduction the Imperial landau met a demand decisively greater than the Chevrolet factory officials estimated, and as a consequence the production schedules on this model were repeatedly increased. The savings in cost as a result of the large production were so great as to make possible the price reduction announced this week, and, according to Chevrolet officials, the lowered price has already further increased the demand for the already popular model.

The entire Chevrolet line this year won instant approval for its good looks, but especial tribute has been paid the Imperial landau both for its lines and color scheme. With body in lustrous black Duco, vivid red window reveals and top of mouse gray, the Imperial landau possesses a distinct personality unusual in cars anywhere near its price class. Unusual comfort, too, was achieved in its seating arrangement, and ever detail of its interior finish is worthy of the best traditions of the Fisher Body company, which builds it. Even such interior appointments as built-in smoking set, period hardware and maroon leather wind laces around the doors are included in the equipment.

"A recent magazine article by one of the foremost advertising men in America dealt with the growing recognition of beauty as a valuable business tool, and cited the present success of Chevrolet as an outstanding instance of its use," said Harry G. Golden, Richmond Chevrolet dealer yesterday. "Our sales experience has proved the truth of this time and again in recent months. The Imperial landau especially has been frequently chosen by buyers who were originally considering cars of much higher price, but found such completely satisfying appearance and performance in the landau that they purchased it. Marsh Creek Canyon Lends Fine Vistas For Motorists

Eastbay motorists are indeed fortunate in having so easily accessible such an ideal spot as Marsh Creek Canyon. This is a trip which can be made in an afternoon or an entire day may be pleasantly spent in enjoying this unusually pretty little canyon.

Leave Oakland and Berkeley via the Tunnel Road to Walnut Creek

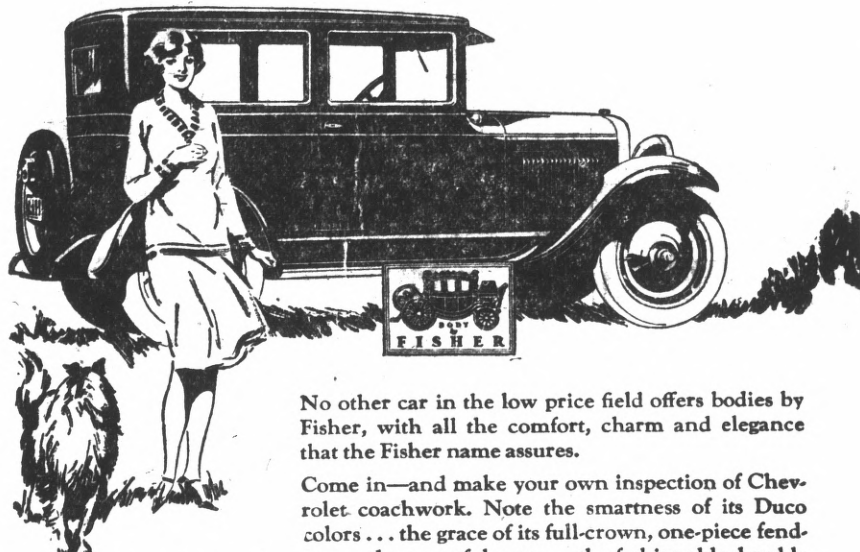

This road is in good condition with the exception of about three miles a short distance east of the tunnel. Here, due to slides, considerable repair work is necessary. The road rough and careful driving is necessary. Paved from Walnut Creek to Concord and Clayton. Leaving Clayton three and a half miles of excellent hard surfaced road is encountered, thence an unusually good gravel road winds up through small valleys in which are interspersed small farms, orchards and vineyards. The road then enters the canyon, crossing and recrossing Marsh Creek and following it for some little distance. There are numerous attractive places to stop and enjoy the picnic lunch or to spend the afternoon in the solitude of the country.

A PERFECTLY working Gas Range is a delight to use. But at times, food boiling over or dust drawn in through the air mixers will carbonize and unless the burners are cleaned these particles will close the holes or ports of the burners. The result is a yellow flame or a "popping" noise when you turn off the gas. This is improper combustion.

The burners of your Gas Range are easily removed and should be cleaned each month to insure perfect combustion and cleanliness. Merely boil the burners in a solution of lye water or caustic soda until they are thoroughly clean.

Bright Colors Are Featured In Chandler

"Bright, flashy colors still continue in popular favor for motor cars," says George Olson, local Chandler distributor. "Cars of drab monotonous dark blues and blacks are obsolete. Brilliant duotone combinations in blues, tans, greens and grays are the vogue with new models."

Not only roadsters and sport touring cars, but also the heavier family cars and the automobile of the business man are now being finished in attractive color schemes, reflecting the gay fashions of the day.

"Chandler is abreast of the times with large number of fascinating color combinations," said Olson.

"The new 1928 models are finished to suit a variety of tastes for nowadays the motorist is just as particular in selecting the color of his car as he is in choosing his neckties. His wife must have her car fastidiously finished in delicate pastel shades worthy of a Parisian frock."

A unique color idea and one typical of Chandler is that found on the Special Six Sportster. The body is of Cumberland beige with

Praise Given New American Six By Winner Of Dole Race

The greatest air derby in the history of aviation brings Art Goebel, pilot of the Travel Air monoplane Woolaroo, from comparative obscurity to international prominence. True Goebel was well known in aerial circles as a daring stunt flyer and sterling pilot but the great American public merely regarded him as another of those "fool aviators."

But now he's an honored figure. His name, like that of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, conqueror of the Atlantic, will go down in history. There is much in the stories of Goebel's and Lindbergh's flights that are parallel.

Both of them were considered great pilots, both of them received comparatively little publicity before the "hop off" other than something like a casual mention that they, competitors—both of them had planes that were tuned to the minute and ready for the supreme test.

While Art prepared the Woolaroo for the Dole race at Mills airport, San Francisco's municipal airport, he managed to find time enough to inspect the new Oakland All American Six with its poised eagle on the radiator cap. Goebel was struck by the similarity of this great bird ready for flight and his own "ship" which at that time was perched impatiently on its wheels waiting for the starter to drop his checkered flag.

The new All American Six sedan which the aviator inspected aroused his enthusiasm because of its trim lines and on account of the power beneath its hood. Goebel drove the car around the airport and tested it for pick-up, easy riding qualities and braking power. After he got out from behind the wheel, he remarked:

"Some automobile! That's the justified claim made by George Olson, Oakland, Pontiac dealer for Richmond."

To watch Art prepare his monoplane for the flight showed that he knew just what he was doing. He went over it minutely from motor to rudder. When he got through he had a mechanic spin the "prop" until his 8-cylinder Wright Whirlwind motor roared its challenge to the air. He allowed it to warm up for 15 minutes before he signaled his helper to pull the chocks away from the wheels so that he could take the Woolaroo up for a test flight.

On the day of the race he pursued somewhat similar tactics before the checkered flag dropped.

Mountain Ridge green mouldings and stripes of the latter color on the hood louvers. The wheels are of Mountain Ridge green with Cumberland beige stripes. The top panels of the rear doors are of Mountain Ridge green. Optional colors on the Special Six Sportster are Andrew grey and Blue Devil blue with a fine white stripe on moulding.

Hemlock grey and Holyoke blue, used on a number of Chandler models, have both proven exceedingly popular.

The Royal Eight Roadster reflects the latest vogue in smart motor cars, the body being finished in striking two-tone Fawn with Medenna Lake between the moulding on doors. A gold stripe on the moulding completes the color scheme.

Throughout the Chandler line exquisite harmonizing colors are used. In addition to those mentioned above, the following are some of the fashionable colors now in use on the Chandler Royal Eight, Big and Special Sixes, Lotus blue, Pearl grey, Olive green, Silver grey, Sheridan Grey, Tuscan tan, Beverly brown, Tonahap grey, Apple green, Beige brown and Granada blue.

Great Lakes Rum Smuggling Proves Enforcement Problem

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—An imminent conflict with some of the richest and most highly organized liquor smuggling combines in existence, operating throughout the Great Lakes region and in the northwest, today faced the new prohibition high command in its first great test.

New and burdensome enforcement sprang up almost simultaneously in these two areas just after Seymour Lowman took office as assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition on August 1, and before James M. Doran, as the new prohibition commissioner had completed reorganization of his forces.

Great Lakes smuggling runs into many millions of dollars yearly. Its backbone is a twenty-five to thirty mile stretch of the Detroit river, only a mile wide at some points and honeycombed with smugglers' lairs and impenetrable hiding places.

Throughout the regime of General Lincoln C. Andrews it served his innovations in organization and strategy and the exertions of some of his best enforcement "aces." A swift succession of happenings has dropped the resulting problem squarely into laps of Lowman and Doran with need for immediate action.

Enforcement heads in the area were changed, control of the border patrol forces was shifted from probation to the customs bureau, extensive plans were made for cooperation of customs brokers and the railroads in suppressing liquor shipments by rail, all with the result that smuggling went on much as before.

Ontario's going wet has brought at least the threat of an increased flood of liquor across the border. The tourist season has added by thousands to the number of automobiles to be watched. And the highly touted liquor treaty with Canada, according to the private but emphatic statements of government officials, has proved virtually worthless in checking smuggling of the Detroit river variety.

Before Canadian liquor shipments declared for export to the United States can be reported to this government, as the treaty provides, the rum boats have made a quick dash in the darkness to the American side and landed their cargoes.

Lowman and Doran have shifted the prohibition command closer to this battle ground by setting up a separate enforcement district in Michigan, with Thomas H. Stone as administrator. Their plan is to reinforce this effort by Claude E. Clark.

linking his forces more closely to the border patrol and the coast guard and strike concerted blows at all phases of the smuggling. The concede that their problem is difficult.

Meanwhile a heavy movement of smuggled liquor from Vancouver and elsewhere into Washington and Oregon has come to light, to test their mettle at the western end of the border. Allegations that bribery of agents has helped to make this traffic possible have so complicated this problem that personnel changes are expected when investigations have been completed by the treasury.

Among other methods for producing plenty of superior rubber latex, bud-grafting is made better trees—has been practiced on the United States Rubber plantations for 100 years. If you ride on U. S. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat.

FOUR WOMEN ON CROSS COUNTRY TRIP USE BUICK

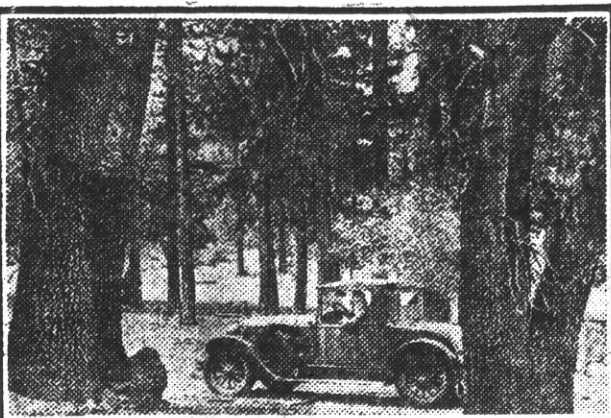

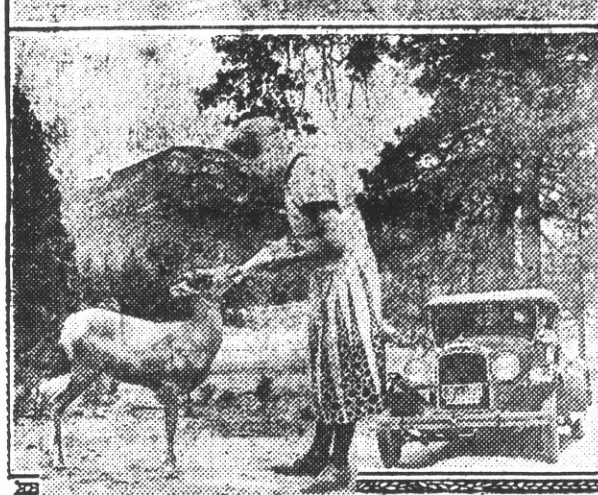

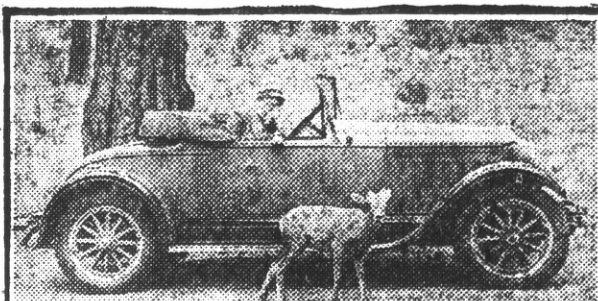

Transcontinental automobile trips are tame affairs nowadays if the experiences of four ladies who arrived in California from New Jersey the other day are a criterion. With the exception of encountering a couple of Indians in New Mexico, whom were thought to be hold-up men, but were probably blanket peddlers or beggars, the fair auto voyagers reported no more difficulties in negotiating the cross-country trip than would be found on a short jaunt along a California highway.

The trip was made without any difficulty whatever, in a Buick Brougham, according to C. C. Kratzer, Richmond Buick dealer.

THREE GENERATIONS
The members of the party, representing three generations, were: Mrs. John F. Findley, who drove the car; Miss Elizabeth Findley, her sister-in-law; Miss Zella Bors, her ten-year-old niece; and Mrs. William T. McIntire, her mother. Although the latter lady was well advanced in years, she stated that she suffered no discomforts on the trip whatever and much preferred their Buick Brougham to a Pullman coach for transcontinental traveling.

Mrs. Findley, who kept a log of the long journey, states that the speedometer of her Buick registered 3446 miles from Jersey City on reaching San Francisco and that it required eighteen days to make the trip. They came out by way of the National Old Trails and southern route, stopping at the Grand Canyon and other noted scenic points. The roads were generally good, with two exceptions reported Mrs. Findley. One was the muddy area in Kansas, which prevailed because of a recent electrical storm, and the other was a long stretch in Colorado where the road had been newly covered with sharp crushed rock that raised havoc with everybody's tires. All of the driving was done in the daylight hours, except between Needles and San Bernardino, when the desert was navigated by the light of the moon to avoid the terrific heat, according to Mrs. Findley. Stops were made at hotels for meals and lodgings, and the Buick party was high in its praise of the hostleries along the route. As an expression of their indifference to the dangers and rigors of transcontinental touring, Mrs. Findley and her feminine companions turned around, after seeing the sights of California, and headed their Buick for their home in Jersey City again. The return trip is being made over the Lincoln highway with the side trips contemplated for Yellowstone National Park, Pike's Peak and Colorado Springs.

Hates To Play With Fire

LAURA LaPLANTE, Universal Film Star, inaugurating the annual fire prevention campaign of the Richfield Oil Company.

Richfield Oil Company In Field For Fire Prevention

Spontaneous combustion, that mysterious and much-maligned enemy of mankind has been charged with many crimes which it has never committed. It is held responsible for a great share of the forest fires which annually cause the loss of millions of dollars in trees as well as destroying the beauty of our landscape.

According to reports of leading insurance companies and state and Federal authorities, over 70 per cent of the forest fires are caused by carelessness on the part of Mr. Average Citizen. A burning match or cigarette is heedlessly thrown away, or a campfire is left uncovered and the damage is done. Soon a large area is being swept by the ravenous flames and often it takes weeks to bring the fire under control. There is need of continual education on the necessity of fire prevention for people soon forced the devastating fires of former years. The loss of our scenic attractions and the gigantic economic waste are forgotten until carelessness are in starts the ravenous flames on the trail of destruction.

Motor Car Dealers Associations, automobile clubs, touring bureaus and other organizations have been laboring to impress on the public the need for taking the utmost precautions when out in the forest regions.

That this effort is bearing fruit is indicated by the decrease in the number of forest fires since the inauguration of this concerted fire prevention campaign.

Among the leading public-spirited corporations which have contributed their aid in this great cause is the Richfield Oil company which has each year devoted a considerable portion of its advertising to urge the prevention of forest fires.

A new series of Richfield advertisements stressing the "Be Careful" idea has just been released and will appear in all the leading newspapers and magazines throughout the state.

Tulare-Tulare County Fair will open September 20th.

Coster the Tire Man is introducing a new line of tires at his service station, Twenty-second and Macdonald avenue. He has taken the agency for Mohawk tires, which he believes to be the best on the market.

Before taking over this line he gave them a thorough test and found that they are all that they are represented to be. The Heavy Duty type of extra ply are said to give from 3,000 to 5,000 more miles than ordinary high pressure cords. The flat tread balloons besides adding a dressy touch to the car, are considered one of the most economical tires on the market. Coster says that for service and mileage they cannot be beaten.

however, and is now being subjected to repairs and complete renovation.

"I have been in business in Richmond too long and have too many friends here to think of quitting business in Richmond," stated Strom. "While I must spend a part of my time looking after interests elsewhere, my business here will be looked after by A. T. Anderson, who will be in charge and H. H. Huston, who will have charge of the shop department."

which means more expense?

It means taking time and it means taking pains to do work accurately when you are dealing in fractions of an inch so small as two or three one thousands. On one hand, we face the fact that the garage man has not been a good salesman. He has not told the customer that it costs money to run an automobile. On the customer's side, and especially if it is his first car, he has the notion that he has paid enough when he bought it. He therefore resorts to makeshift repairs long neglected, or seeks a mechanic who promises to end the trouble for less than the job is worth and the result leaves all garages with a black eye. As usual the blame is about fifty-fifty for it is natural for the customer to drive the best bargain possible and it is hard for the garage to refuse the work or run the risk of losing it by explaining that to do the job properly will cost more than the customer wants to pay.
